

Term & Condition

1. Ivcarally2026.org is a site that provides a information, forum and registration about IVCA Rally 2026 Event. The rules directly related to this website will be fully regulated by the terms and conditions below.
2. Within an unspecified time, the terms and conditions will change. Your use of this website must follow any changes that are part of the agreement and are bound by the terms in accordance with the existing changes without exception.
3. By filling out and submitting the event registration form, it means that I have understood and agreed to the terms and conditions set by the Event Organizer, as stated in this document.
4. By prospective participants filling out this form, prospective participants and race participants are deemed to have known and understood all risks and consequences that will arise from this event.
5. All information regarding the event can be seen on our official website, or can be contacted via e-mail infoivca2026@gmail.com.
6. The Organizer and event implementer have the right to change or replace the event schedule if there is force majeure or other matters beyond the control of the implementer and organizer that can result in losses to the implementation of the event or participants. The organizer and event implementer will inform as much as possible about changes before the event is held.
7. By registering and providing personal or other information, in participating in the event, the Organizer and event implementer, assume that participants have given written permission to the Organizer and implementer and have the right to use all information regarding participants, whether it is personal information related to participants or for programs, planning, data processing, and statistics or analysis, research, funds and / or other purposes as a continuation of the above event.
8. The Organizer states that all basic information belongs to the Event Organizer, they can use the information if needed.
9. Participants agree that the organizer can use my name and photo at any time in the promotion and publicity of the event
10. Participants state that all information provided is true.

Registration Policy.

1. Participants register for the event they want to participate in.
2. After registering, participants can choose what type of ticket they want to buy and then check out to the next step.
3. In the checkout process, customers are asked to log in first or create a new registration.
4. Then participants must follow the 3 checkout steps as follows:
  - The data entered must match the actual personal data.
  - Payment Method: Participants are asked to choose the type of payment. - Confirm Order: Customers are asked to agree to the terms and conditions applicable at ivcarally2026.org (after this process, participants will receive an email regarding ordering information)

Proof of Transaction (Invoice).

1. An invoice is a valid proof of transaction as proof of booking and purchase and as a reference for your ticket purchase.
2. You are encouraged to keep the invoice from each of your ticket purchases which may be useful for after-purchase service. (Keep proof of payment in case it is needed at any time)

Refund and cancellation policy.

1. We do not provide refunds unless there is an error on our part and outside of what has been stated in the terms and conditions on this page. We are not responsible for tickets if misused that you have obtained because legally the item is already your property and responsibility.
2. Order cancellations are canceled unilaterally if:
  - a. You have not made payment within 3x24 hours after ordering or at the customer's request.
  - b. We have not received your payment.
  - c. The effective date on the invoice for the order has expired.